TROUBLE WITH A MANIAC Squire A. B. Tyson, the statesman from Second Ward, had a lively experience with a demented woman Wednesday night. While attending services at the Fifth-Street Methodist church, he was called out by a young man, who informed him of the strange behavior of an aged white woman. When he saw the woman ne was satisfied that she was mentally og, and he watcher her actions.

After knocking at several doors, and not being admitted, she at last opened a foor, entered and made herself at home. The Squire followed her, and when he ound sno was in the wrong house, he cok charge of her and attempted to escort her to the station-house. She gave im a lively tussle while in his charge.

FIRE ALARM.

An alarm of fire was turned in from ourth ward yesterday morning at 8 o'cleck.

In a few misutes quite a crowd had collested, and the whole party went in the direction of Cowardin avenue. The firemen looked all around the neighborhood for the blaze, but were unsuccessful. It was reported the alarm was caused by the burning of a stable in rear of the Cowardin Avenue Christian church, owned by Mr. Ashbrook. If such was the case it was put out before the firemen arrived on the scene.

It will be the first presentation of the opera in this city, although it has achieved.

ed successes in many other cities.

The New York Journal in speaking of the production of the opera in New York, gave it the following conscientous and "The book is exceedingly clever. It is one of those rare cases, where the libret-tist comes distinctly to the front. The music is strikingly tuneful and solid in its general qualities." Minerva Dorr, Edward H. Carroll and a number of other opera folk wil be seen in the cast to-night.

Murray and Mack, who for years have been the recognized leaders of extrava-gant Irish farce comedy, will present at the Academy to-morrow afternoon and night their new play "Finnigan's Court-ship," by long odds the very best of their several plays. It is plausible, and could be played without a single specialty, but Murray and Mack this season are keeping up their end of the job with bright orig-inal buriesques and almost every member inal-buriesques and almost every member of the company will contribute an original idea of some kind. put the furnace in a condition for operation as soon as possible.

It is expected that the furnace will be put into blast by the 1st of January or very soon thereafter. The capacity of the furnace is 120 tons per day and will employ about two hundred and fifty men.

The Alleghany Company owns some large ore mines in Craig county, from which they will get the ore for this furnace.

This furnace was last operated by the Rich Patch Iron Company under a lease, it is owned by the Virginia Development Company.

Buena Vista feels much encouraged at the starting of the furnace and also the operation of the weellen mills that have been recently bought and will soon begin work. These work. There are some encouraging reports that the glass factory will be put into operation again soon.
